A WHOLE TOWN ENGULFED. Scotch Valley, Pa., Swallowed Up by a

Mins Cave-in. LOFTY, Pa., Sept. 6 - The little mining town of Scotch Valley, in Luckawanna county near this place, was swallowed up last night in one of the most complete mine cave-ins ever known in this region. The scene of the disaster is on the slope of Mount Lookout, the score of houses comprising the hamlet being at the mouth of the shaft of the Mount Lookout colliery. The wildexcitement prevails throughont the region and details are fragmentary. It is known, however, that the dozen houses on each side of the principal street of the hamlet are completely swallowed up in the gaping hole and nothing can be seen of the other buildings of the town but

It is impossible to state accurately the number of fatalities, or if there are any. Rescuing parties are exerting every means to release the occupants of the engulfed dwellings. One of the buried houses has taken fire.

The cave-in was caused by the giving way of timber supports in the workin s of the Mount Lookout colliery. which has not been in operation for about two years, and had been neglected in consequence.
